

Llandudno, 10 October 2019

The Wales Health at Work Partnership* (WHWP) invite you to the inaugural Wales Health at Work Summit 2019 at St George's Hotel, Llandudno at 9.30am–3.30pm on Thursday 10 October 2019.

The Summit – which is free of charge - focusses on the needs of Welsh SMEs and is directed primarily at organisations that support or link to SMEs ('SME intermediaries') in Wales. SMEs themselves are also welcome to attend. Its aims are to:

- inform you about new and existing initiatives in Wales to support employers, protect employees and improve health and wellbeing at work;
- share health, wellbeing and safety approaches;
- gather your views on what additional support SMEs need.

Main speakers at the Summit will include:

- Ken Skates AM – Minister for Economy and Transport, Welsh Government
- Sarah Albon – HSE Chief Executive (with effect from 1st September 2019).

When you attend you will also have the chance to take part in two expert workshops on “Stress and Mental Wellbeing in the workplace” and “Musculoskeletal Disorders (MSDs)” – two issues which can adversely affect the health and wellbeing of employees, as well as significantly limiting productivity and business success.

The Wales Health at Work Summit is an unmissable opportunity to address vital matters on workplace health, and to promote good health and wellbeing through and at work. It is a fitting first event for the WHWP, a cross-government and cross-industry body committed to improving workplace health in Wales.

Places at the Summit are limited so if you would like to take part please register at <https://wales.business-events.org.uk/en/events/wales-health-at-work-summit-2019/> as soon as you can. This Wales Health at Work Partnership event is funded by the Health and Safety Executive (HSE) and the Welsh Government through Healthy Working Wales.

We in the Wales Health at Work Partnership very much look forward to meeting you in Llandudno in October.

Yours faithfully,

THE WALES HEALTH AT WORK PARTNERSHIP
